

Chiropractic Neurologists have advanced and extensive training in the field of Neurology. They are board certified through the ACNB (American Chiropractic Neurology Board) and are required to complete an additional 300+ hours of study and pass a vigorous 4-day exam to attain certification.

They are trained in cutting-edge neuroscience, neurological pathways, and the most effective neurological therapies as science defines them.

A Chiropractic Neurologist looks at the patient in a different light. It's not just about pain and your spine. It's about how your entire system works together to create the most optimal function for you day after day.
